

VMWARE PRIVATE TRAINING

Maximize your training. Minimize your cost.

KEY BENEFITS

- Lower average cost per student than classroom training
- No travel required
- Minimizes time away from work
- Training is aligned with your business objectives
- Schedule is based on the needs of your business and your team

LEARN MORE

Visit the Private Training website.

To find out more about Private Training and other VMware training and certification options, visit: www.vmware.com/education.

Michael Lux, Sr. Director AMER,
mlux@vmware.com

Nick Beard, Sr. Director EMEA, nbeard@vmware.com

Lisa Leong, Sr. Director APJ,
lleong@vmware.com

Why Private Training?

Sending your IT team offsite for training is not always an option. With VMware® Private Training, we train your team on location. This is an ideal option for organizations that want a cost-effective way to train a large number of employees at one time.

When you choose Private Training, the VMware Education Services team works with you to deliver course content based on the needs of your business. No travel is required, so your team spends less time away from work.

Dedicated VMware Expert

A VMware Certified Instructor is fully dedicated to your specific training needs based on your business objectives.

Reduced Costs

No travel is required by the IT team and they spend less time away from work. The cost per student is reduced by an average of 25% compared to traditional classroom training.

VMware Education Services

VMware Education Services delivers training and certification programs designed to help customers achieve their desired business outcomes. We help them build skills and best practices to identify and exploit the unique opportunities made possible by VMware technology, and gain real business value through a better understanding of the capabilities of VMware solutions.

